Final meeting in Bordeaux and Local seminars

In June, we held our last transnational partner meeting in the beautiful city of Bordeaux at the Centre d'animation Saint-Michel. This two-day meeting marked a turning point for our project, as it gave us the opportunity to reflect on our achievements and finalize deliverables.

Highlights included an evaluation of the guide, which has served as the cornerstone of the project.

There was a hands-on session on the platform tool that highlighted our commitment to sustainability, ensuring that the resources developed during the Ylp remain accessible and impactful for years to come.

We also discussed outreach strategies and the selection of the best photos shared on the collaborative platform. This collaborative spirit left us inspired and ready for the final steps.

Local Seminars: Engaging Communities

An important milestone was the holding of seven local seminars in the partner countries, with a total of 154 participants. These seminars brought together youth workers, trainers and representatives of organizations working in the youth and migration sectors.

The seminars served to share the results of the YIp project and encourage discussion on how photography can be used as a tool for intercultural dialogue. The feedback and ideas generated during these events reinforced the value of the project and its relevance in addressing the challenges faced by youth communities.

Concluding remarks

At the conclusion of the YIP project, we are proud of the collective efforts and achievements of our partners and participants. The friendships, knowledge and tools developed will continue to have a positive impact on our communities.

We thank all of our partners, participants and supporting organizations for their dedication and passion throughout this journey. Together, we have demonstrated the power of photography as a bridge between cultures and a medium for meaningful dialogue.
